Featured Speaker

MIKE ELMENDORF,
NFIB/NEW YORK STATE DIRECTOR

Mike Elmendorf was named New York state director of NFIB in January 2007. Prior to joining NFIB, Elmendorf spent 11 years in the administration of New York Gov. George E. Pataki. Elmendorf brings extensive experience in state government, having served as special assistant to the governor and director of Intergovernmental Affairs. In that role, he was a member of the governor's senior staff and served as the governor's advisor on state-federal, regional, state-to-state and international relations. He was responsible for a broad range of policy initiatives, and worked with officials from across New York on the local, state and federal levels.
